DOG PARK HISTORY

Beaches Dog Park Project was formed October 2001 by Jacksonville Beach residents who wanted a place where people could recreate with their dogs off leash. Dog Parks were gaining in popularity across Florida, but Jacksonville and the beaches didn't have any leash-free areas. The group did extensive research, drafted a proposal and presented it to the Jacksonville Beach City Council in 2002.

In 2003, the City of Jacksonville Beach City Council chose Wingate Park as the location for Jacksonville Beach's first dog park. Construction of the dog park began as part of the Wingate Park Improvements Project in 2004.

Paws Park at Wingate Park is a city park that is free to the public with a large dog area, small dog area, automatic watering bowls, benches, poop bag dispensers, trash bins, people watering fountain, educational bulletin board and is handicapped accessible.
